DWELLING TOGETHER IN UNITY.

A few days ago the Gazette took the liberty of quoting from a leading democratic paper a few remarks on the question of bringing the democratic factions together so that they can stand on one platform, heartily support the same candidate, and thus march to victory. Since then there have been other expressions in regard to the democratic candidate and the democratic chairman which show that the coming together of the democratic factions is not much better than uniting of fire and explosives.

The New York Sun says every democrat will endorse the election of Colonel Brice as chairman of the democratic National committee—that Brice is the right man and would have succeeded in defeating the republicans last fall if he had not been handicapped by such a candidate as Cleveland.

The New York World which is as good a democratic paper as the Sun, says the choice of Brice was a great mistake—that the democratic party can never win and will never deserve to win by elevating such as its figuresheads.

The Sun will oppose Cleveland's nomination, and the World doesn't want to be compelled to support him. But the Atlanta Constitution says Mr. Cleveland must be renominated because the democrats can't elect any one else.

The Omaha Herald, the organ of the democracy west of the Mississippi, speaks of Brice as the man "who elected Harrison and Morton last fall," which is a fine compliment to the democratic chairman.

The New York Sun nominates Hill and Randall, but the St. Louis Republic, the leader of the democratic hosts in Missouri, says Hill is owned by the saloons. As their creature he is bound to carry out their ideas, and the saloon idea is that their should be no law or regulation to prevent the saloons from running the country. While the Atlanta Constitution remarks that Randall must leave the democratic party.

This is the "coming together" of the factions, and it promises a queer campaign for the democrats.

REAPING WHAT THEY HAVE Sown.

There are certain temperance people in Chicago who are reaping tares because they sowed the seed that produced a fine weed.

The New York Sun nominates Hill and Randall, but the St. Louis Republic, the leader of the democratic hosts in Missouri, says Hill is owned by the saloons. As their creature he is bound to carry out their ideas, and the saloon idea is that their should be no law or regulation to prevent the saloons from running the country. While the Atlanta Constitution remarks that Randall must leave the democratic party.

It seems that during the municipal campaign in that city a great many temperance people agreed among themselves that they would vote for Cregier for mayor and scratch Roche for the alleged reason that if elected Cregier would close the saloons on Sunday, and that Roche would not, or did not during his term of office. So Cregier was elected, and Bishop Fallows, who led in the movement to elect a democratic mayor because he would close the saloons on Sunday, called on the mayor the other day and asked that they be rewarded for bolting the republican ticket. It requires only a few lines to tell what Mayor Cregier said to the delegation of temperance people.

He smiled frequently and nodded approvingly, and then said he was in favor of law and order and would always endeavor to aid in anything for the betterment of the people. He had been so busy, he said, that he had not given some things the attention he should have given them, but he hoped to have more time to attend to public wants now that the scramble for office was over.

It didn't take long for Bishop Fallows to see that their democratic mayor was giving them taffy. The good bishop also learned that neither Mayor Cregier nor ex-Mayor Roche could close saloons, barber shops, and stores on Sunday, for the reason that there is no law giving the mayor that authority. Before the election these temperance people were led to believe that a democratic mayor would come to the rescue of the Sabbath and that the desecration of the day would practically cease in Chicago! Poor deluded mortals! They sold their votes for much less than the value of a mess of potage. If they had taken time to think, or had been wise as voters, they would have known that there was not one chance in ten thousand of a democratic mayor closing saloons on Sunday even if he had the power.

The condition of Bishop Fallows and his deluded followers teaches a very important lesson. Men who sell their votes to the enemy with a promise as the only consideration, always suffer loss. Dividends were never known to come from such an investment.

The stories of the enormous gains of the trust, extravagants as they seem to be, probably not much exaggerated, and the stock market accidents are as high as from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 a year on a capital of $50,000,000. And these resuscitable and unjust profits are made out of the necessities of the people. The millions to whom an advance of two or three cents a pound on sugar means serious inconvenience, if not actual deprivation and suffering, are the victims from whom the gains of the millionaire monopolies are extorted.—New York World.

And this is a democratic trust, and when the republican party represented by the republican senators, sought to reduce the tariff on sugar fully 50 per cent, the democrats both in congress and out of it, set up a howl against the proposed reduction, and it is said that Havemeyer, the conspicuous head of the sugar trust, gave $150,000 to the Cleveland campaign fund. And the New York World need not have its memory jogged as to its case last fall. During the campaign it said a word against this democratic trust, but now it wakes up to the fact that the sugar trust is a dangerous thing; and that Chairman Brice is a rank monopolist. The World is taking very much the same view of trusts and the democratic chairman that the republicans did during the last campaign.

A writer in the New York Tribune thinks the word "trust" should be "monopoly," because it is a "much softer expression." It may be "a more tender word," but it would sound odd if, where Byron described the maid of Saragossa as stalking over "the yet warm dead," we should substitute "the yet warm deceased" or if, in that fine passage in "Rodericus," we should read "and the sea gave up the dead which were in it."—Sentinel.

Or, that beautiful passage from the 14th of Revelations—"And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, write, blessed are the dead that die in the Lord from henceforth;" or that verse from the 115th Psalm—"The dead praise not the Lord, neither any that go down into silence." It would be ridiculous to substitute the word "deceased" for that of "dead" in these fine passages; and when one hears an argument for such a change he naturally thinks of Colonel Seller's plea for the word "kill" instead of that of "murder" on the ground that there was similitude about the former and a sharpness about the latter!

Mr. Calvin S. Brice at the head of the democratic national committee, will be a terrible menace to the money power! The democratic granglers of the west will sing with joy when they learn that the democratic hosts are to be marshaled by a Wall street railway manipulator.—New York World.

Such "earmarks" as this must be given to the democratic leaders of the democratic world. The democratic party is in a very troublesome condition. It takes Cleveland because it has to; and the Bruce dose is forced upon it. It goes down pretty hard, and will come up again as in 1888.

Governor Hoard has received the following letter from the war department:

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge, with thanks, the receipt of your letter of the 11th, tendering to the United States the use of the Wisconsin state camp and rifle range, near Camp Douglas, Wis., together with tents, etc., for the purpose of holding there the annual trials competition of the U.S. Cavalry. Will you inform me that your offer is accepted, and that the commanding general of the Division of Missouri has been advised. Very respectfully, J. M. SCHOFIELD, Major-General, Acting Secretary of War.

Things to be remembered: "Every furnace has pured out ideas with the molten metal. Every mill has drawn a host of sophisters with the rattle and roar of its machinery. Every yard of cloth, every pair of shoes, every glass tumbler, every plate or knife, etc or saw has gone out into the world as apostle of protection, teaching buyers and users that protected industries secure cheaper goods to consumers at the same time that they give higher wages to workers."

It is there is any comfort in the assurance that Cleveland will be the democracy's choice in 1892, our friends of the opposition are at liberty to make the most of it. They can count him in—Zetetic Constitution.

There is considerable comfort among the opposition in the assurance that Mr. Cleveland will be the democratic choice in 1892. The democrat may count him in the race, but the people will again count him out.

The Chicago Journal is responsible for the following statement: A list of eighteen millionaires is published in the newspapers, the total wealth of all aggregating $1,227,000,000. Aside from P. D. Armour, who is in the list for $25,000,000, they have not contributed, altogether, $2,500 to the flood sufferers.

The contributions in cash to the Johnson County sufferers will aggregate over four million dollars. Of this amount Philadelphia gives $800,000, New York $700,000, Pittsburgh $345,000, Chicago $125,000, Boston $100,000.

New Hampshire did well in re-electing William E. Chandler to the senate. The democrats do not like him because he is a terror to them, but the republicans admire him for his courage, ability and honesty.

Mr. Brice, chairman of the democratic national committee, is said to be a delightful man in many ways. The republicans found him more delightful in the last campaign than the democrat did.

Cast Heself Over Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 15.—An unknown woman went over the falls to day and it is supposed she committed suicide. A policeman who saw the body in the rapids found on the river bank in Prospect park a black silk parasol, an empty half-pint flask, which had contained whisky, and a glass. William Glassbrook, mate of the steamer Maid of the Mist, towed the body to the shore below the new Suspension bridge. The clothing from the waist down was gone with the exception of the shoes and stockings. The woman was about 40 years old. It is rumored that she came from Buffalo.

Claims to Be Christ.

HINESVILLE, Ga., June 15.—The latest sensation in Liberty county is the claim of a negro representing himself as Christ. He is going about among an ignorant class of people. He exhibits scars on his feet and hands where he was nailed to the cross. He predicts an earthquake and the end of the world Aug. 15. He goes from house to house followed by a large multitude of negroes and his influence over them is so great that many of them have abandoned their crops and given themselves up to preparation for the end.

We have just received the largest and finest line of window shades and shade cloth ever shown in the city. Call and examine. We will not be undersold.

SULLIVAN OUT ON BAIL.
JUDGE TULEY GIVES HIM FREEDOM.

Bonds Fixed at $20,000—Tom Tierney Locked Up—Why Sapphires Were Aroused Against Him.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Alexander Sullivan left Judge Tuley's court room Friday, temporarily at least, a free man after furnishing $20,000 bail. In admitting Mr. Sullivan to bail Judge Tuley delivered one of the most interesting decisions his life since the bail was given immediately after the trial began.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The agreement between England, Germany, and the United States on Samoa affairs was made up about equal parts of the friends and foes of Mr. Sullivan and lawyers who were anxious to bring about a quick settlement.

It is reported here that the United States has abandoned its objections to the protocol, and the Samoa conference is practically adjourned.

The agreement was cordially approved by all the members of the conference and by their respective governments, and the best of feeling prevailed at the termination of the labors of the commissioners.

BERLIN, June 15.—The agreement negotiated by the commissioners to the Samoa conference for the settlement of affairs in Samoa was signed by all the members of the conference. America having abandoned her principal objections to the agreement previously arrived at, the plenipotentiaries had only to make unessential modifications in the wording of the draft of the treaty.

A MISSION PRIEST DEAD.

FATHER DAMEN OF CHICAGO CALLED TO HIS REST.

He Passes Away at Omaha After a Short Illness—Sketch of His Great Life Work.

OMAHA, Neb., June 15.—Father Damien, the well known Catholic evangelist of Chicago, died at Creighton College in this city at an early hour this morning.

The Rev. Arnold Damen, for years the superior of the establishment of the Jesuit order in Chicago, was undoubtedly the greatest mission priest who ever developed a life work in the United States. As a preacher his power to reach and move the masses of people was something marvelous and in his person he possessed the rare combination of persuasive eloquence, signal ability, administrative capacity, and immense physical endurance.

Of later years Father

Damen has scarcely left the prominent figure he was in earlier days, but there are thousands who remember that not so very long ago the announcement that he was to preach would fill the great edifice of Holy Family church on Twelfth street to overflowing.

In presence and extremely benign in demeanor, for the year past Father

Damen has exercised a power of good, and thousands owe the beginning of their spiritual life and as well as their worldly welfare to his impassioned appeals from the pulpit, and his earnest pleading and teachings as a devoted priest.

Father Damen first went to Chicago in 1857. He was then in his 20s of age, having been born in the province of North Brabant, Holland, May 20, 1836. From his birth he manifested his fitness for a religious vocation, and when in 1837 the famous missionary to the Indians of the West, Father de Smet, was returning from Belgium to this country Arnold Damen was one of the young enthusiasts who accompanied him. After the trials and vicissitudes which for fifty years bedeviled the path of the western bound missionaries he had successfully founded his mission to the Indians of the West, the famous "Rocky Mountain Mission."

Arnold Damen was assigned as a novice to the Jesuit establishment at Florissant, Mo., in the days that missions addressed to St. Louis were inscribed: "St. Louis, near Florissant."

He was admitted to the novitiate Nov. 1, 1837, and soon afterward became a teacher of theology and philosophy at the St. Louis university, where he remained until 1844, when he was ordained priest and appointed professor of the college church.

His power as a pulpit orator gained him a wide reputation and he soon became a leader in the aggressive mission work carried on by the order throughout the entire West. Bishop O. Regan of Chicago wanted a Jesuit church and school established here and he most wisely invited the provincial superior of the Society of the Redemptorists, St. Louis, to start the work.

The torso was deemed full of promise, and in the summer of 1857 Father Damen was selected as the one best qualified to begin the infant mission. With what must now be admitted as a farsighted judgment as to the future growth and population of Chicago, Father Damen selected the site of the location on which stands the handsome buildings of the Jesuit church and college, on 12th street, between Blue Island and Avenue May street.

A little church was constructed, then a school-house and a dwelling for the fathers. Father Dame's energy and endurance were restless, and with indomitable perseverance and marvelous physical energy he preached, appealed, raised money for the erection of the great church and college, which together form the enduring monument of his good works.

Holy Family church was completed and dedicated in 1860. Then followed the further undertaking of building the college which Father Dame opened in 1870.

Meanwhile he had been growing up a great pastoral and educational system consisting of five large parish schools, modulating an aggregate attendance of 5,000 pupils. The ministrations of the clergy of the church and the college extend to a parish community of 25,000 souls. All this may be said to have been the direct result of the life work in Chicago of Father Dame.

In marked contrast to his rare intellectual and administrative ability has been the severe simplicity of his personal life. Rigid as are the regulations of his order, Father Dame in his personal habits and methods was a very Spartan in matters in which his own personal comfort and convenience were concerned. From the early morning until night, in the wearisome hours of the contemplative, constant preaching or toil, he for many years outdistanced all his immediate associates in personal toil and unremitting exertion up to his 73d year. His simplicity and humility were always as great as his talents for his work. Two years ago when the Catholics of the various parts of the country were uniting in getting up a testimonial to mark the fiftieth anniversary of his admission to the order, he firmly refused to accept a present of any kind. The offerings of gold and silver, paintings, money, and other articles, were by his express wish converted into a sum of money for the benefit of St. Joseph's home for girls and the school for deaf and dumb, two institutions which always had a warm place in his heart. Such was one instance of the simplicity and self-denial which marked the whole life of this great man.

Labor Troubles.

PARIS, June 16.—The striking cabmen did not resume work this morning as was expected. A meeting of the cabmen was held yesterday evening at the office of M. Constant, Minister of the Interior, but no agreement concerning a settlement of the cabmen's grievances was reached. The strike will probably become general.

Fighting has occurred between French and Italian natives in the department of Haute Marne. Troops have been sent to quell the disturbance.

I THINK Ely's Cream Balm is the best remedy for catarrh I ever saw. I never took anything that relieved me so quickly, and I have not felt so well for a long time. I used to be troubled with severe headaches two or three times a week, but since using the Balm we have only had one, and that was very light compared with other former ones.—A. Alcorn Ag't U. A SCRAP of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable, and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a small bottle; it helped her, she bought another, and grew stronger, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 150 pounds. For further particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Druggist, Fort Smith. Trial bottle of this Wonderful Discovery free at F. Sherer & Co., druggists.

PIMPLES TO SCROFULA.

A Positive Cure for every Skin, Scalp, and Blood Diseases except Ichthyosis.

PEASLEY'S YEARS OLD ARMS AND BREAST ANGEL'S SOUP. BOTTLED WITH SOUP, MEDICINES FAIL. CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES AT A COST OF $3.75.

I have used the Cuticura Remedies with the best results. I used them on my son, who had a severe case of Cuticura, and one case of Cuticura Soap, and am cured of a terrible skin and scalp disease.

It would get better and worse at times. Sometimes my head would be a solid sea, and it was at the time of my cure.

My arms were covered with sores from my elbows to my shoulders, my hands almost one solid sea, and they were very large, and very painful to move.

I had a doctor with the best doctors with no relief, and used many drugs, which were hereditary, and I began to think incurable, but it began to heal from the first application of Cuticura. ARTHUR C. SMITH, Deaderick, Ohio.

SKIN DISEASES 3 YEARS CURED.

I am thankful to say that I have used the Cuticura Remedies and have the great success, and consider myself entirely cured of salt rheum, from which I have suffered for over 3 years. I have had two operations, and two of the best doctors in the country, but found nothing that would effect a cure until I used your Cuticura.
